HISTORY OF THE NAMES

IDAHO
IS THE 43RD
STAR ON THE FLAG OF THE
UNITED STATES
OF AMERICA

Bethine's Burrata:

Jean Bethine Clark Church

(February 19, 1923 – December 21, 2013), was the spouse of U.S. Senator Frank Church of Idaho. As politically active as her husband, she earned the nickname of "Idaho's third senator." In many ways Bethine Clark was as politically active as her husband, actively participating in his campaigns for the Senate and his 1976 Presidential campaign.

Borah Brussel Sprouts:

William Edgar Borah

(June 29, 1865 – January 19, 1940) was a Republican United States Senator, one of the best-known figures in Idaho's history. A progressive who served from 1907 until his death in 1940, Borah is often considered an isolationist,[a] for he led the Irreconcilables, senators who would not accept the Treaty of Versailles, Senate ratification of which would have made the U.S. part of the League of Nations.

C. Ben Ross Caesar:

Charles Benjamin Ross

(December 27, 1876 – March 31, 1946) was the first Idaho-born Governor of Idaho and an important Idaho political figure throughout the 1930s. Ross served as governor from 1931 until 1937.

Hawley's Halloumi Fries:

James Henry Hawley

(January 17, 1847 – August 3, 1929) was an American attorney and politician from Idaho. He was state's ninth Governor from 1911 to 1913, and the mayor of Boise from 1903 to 1905.

Steunenberg Salmon:

Frank Steunenberg

(August 8, 1861 – December 30, 1905) was the fourth Governor of the State of Idaho, serving from 1897 until 1901. In 1905 he was assassinated in Caldwell, Idaho.

Sweet's Spinach Salad:

Willis Sweet

(January 1, 1856 – July 9, 1925) was the first United States Representative elected from Idaho following statehood in 1890. Sweet served as a Republican in the House from 1890 to 1895, representing the state at-large.

W. Wallace French Onion:

William Henson Wallace

(July 19, 1811 – February 7, 1879) was an important figure in the early histories of two U.S. states, serving as governor and Congressional delegate from both Washington Territory and Idaho Territory.
