History of the Names

IDAHO IS THE 43RD STAR ON THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Borah Brussel Sprouts: William Edgar Borah

(June 29, 1865 – January 19, 1940) was a Republican United States Senator, one of the best-known figures in Idaho's history. A progressive who served from 1907 until his death in 1940, Borah is often considered an isolationist,[a] for he led the Irreconcilables, senators who would not accept the Treaty of Versailles, Senate ratification of which would have made the U.S. part of the League of Nations.

C. Ben Ross Caesar: Charles Benjamin Ross

(December 27, 1876 – March 31, 1946) was the first Idaho-born Governor of Idaho and an important Idaho political figure throughout the 1930s. Ross served as governor from 1931 until 1937.

Hawley's Halloumi Fries: James Henry Hawley

(January 17, 1847 – August 3, 1929) was an American attorney and politician from Idaho. He was state's ninth Governor from 1911 to 1913, and the mayor of Boise from 1903 to 1905.

Old Fort Boise Burger: Old Fort Boise

(1834) Thomas McKay, an associate of the Hudson Bay Company, built a fort on the east bank of the Snake River. Old Fort Boise, was located at the mouth of the Boise River, 40 miles from present day Boise. In 1854, due to frequent Indian raids, the fort was abandoned. Despite this, the military desired to build another fort in the area, but, before this plan could go into effect, gold was discovered in the Boise Basin in 1862. On July 4th, 1863, the military chose a location for the new Fort Boise. Parma, Idaho was located next to the fort, and with the protection of the military, the town grew quickly. A major reason for this growth, other than the gold rush, was its location along the Oregon Trail. Parma's Old Fort Boise on the Eastern edge of town has a replica of Fort Boise, a museum and an authentic pioneer cabin.

Steunenberg Salmon: Frank Steunenberg

(August 8, 1861 – December 30, 1905) was the fourth Governor of the State of Idaho, serving from 1897 until 1901. In 1905 he was assassinated in Caldwell, Idaho.

W. Wallace French Onion: William Henson Wallace

(July 19, 1811 – February 7, 1879) was an important figure in the early histories of two U.S. states, serving as governor and Congressional delegate from both Washington Territory and Idaho Territory.
